

SA U.S. SMALL COMPANY FUND

Investor

As of 9/30/2018

The Fund's goal is to achieve long-term capital appreciation. The Fund pursues its goal by generally investing in a target universe consisting of common stocks of small cap companies traded on a principal U.S. exchange or on the over-the-counter market in the United States. Dimensional Fund Advisors LP (the "Sub-Advisor") considers small cap companies to be companies whose market capitalizations generally are either in the lowest 12.5% of total market capitalization or companies whose market capitalizations are smaller than the 1,000th largest U.S. company, whichever results in the higher market capitalization threshold. Under the Sub-Advisor's market capitalization guidelines described above, the market capitalization of a small cap company was defined by the market capitalization of a company in the bottom 10% of total market capitalization, which was approximately $6.3 billion or below. This dollar amount will change due to market conditions.

The performance quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment returns and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed may be worth more or less than their original costs. The performance illustrated and net expense ratio listed reflects fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements. In the absence of these waivers and/or reimbursements, the performance would have been lower.

Investing involves risk, principal loss is possible. Small company stocks may be subject to a higher degree of market risk than the securities of more established companies because they tend to be more volatile and less liquid.

The Russell 2000 Index (Russell 2000 TR USD) measures the performance of the small-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. The Russell 2000 Index is a subset of the Russell 3000 Index representing approximately 10% of the total market capitalization of that index. It includes approximately 2000 of the smallest securities based on a combination of their market cap and current index membership. This index is unmanaged and reflects reinvested dividends and/or distributions, but does not reflect sales charges, commissions, expenses or taxes. An individual cannot invest in an index.
